

Wooden It Be Nice?

Floors made from reclaimed wood are nothing new. But floors made from reclaimed wood that was once the Coney Island boardwalk? That's what this picture shows and it's exactly what you'll find at the new showroom of Manhattan Forest Products in the Merchandise Mart. They work with demo companies to get their hands on cast-away wood from historic sites around New York and then turn those beams into gorgeous products for your home. If you'd rather have a custom-made floor, molding, or shelves, they can do that too, thanks to a mill located in upstate New York. Check out their wares at their opening party at the new showroom (suite 163 in LuxeHome on first floor) on Thursday June 28th from 5 to 7 p.m.. They'll have live music, hors d'oeuvres, and drinks. RSVP at 646-861-4044 or by emailing bizdev@mfpny.com. —AO