LuxeHome, the world's largest collection of premiere boutiques for home building and renovation and The Kitchen & Bath Industry Show (KBIS), the industry's largest international trade show, have created a strategic partnership during the show that runs through Thursday. Key components of the partnership include:

KBIS will provide complimentary shuttle service between McCormick Place and The Merchandise Mart on April 24-26, from noon until the end of the show each day, offering KBIS attendees the opportunity to experience the expansive show as well as the luxury kitchen, bath and building products showrooms at LuxeHome.

"We're very excited to partner with KBIS as our tenants always look forward to connecting with the show's attendees and showcasing their latest offerings in the kitchen and bath industry," said Katherine Flaherty, vice president of building products and special projects for Merchandise Mart Properties Inc., in a press release. "In addition to the LuxeHome manufacturers exhibiting and speaking at KBIS, our boutiques will also host receptions in their showrooms and unveil their newest products."

KBIS will also feature seminars by leaders at LuxeHome including Closet Works of Chicago, The Kohler Store, Poggenpohl and Delta Faucet Co.

"From seminars to the unveiling of new products, this partnership allows attendees to make the most of their time in Chicago for KBIS. By further connecting and building relationships with industry professionals both in and outside of the show, and experiencing the renowned LuxeHome showrooms in person, attendees can remain ahead-of-the-curve on the latest in home building and renovation," said Jim Scott, managing director of KBIS.
