

CHICAGO

Domestica

A WEEKLY ROUND-UP OF LOCAL
DESIGN NEWS, TRENDS, AND EVENTS

February 19, 2015

By Helena Kim

From Room & Board's 2015 collection. PHOTO: COURTESY OF ROOM & BOARD

With spring right around the corner, our favorite home decor stores are having their seasonal sales. Room & Board (55 E. Ohio St.) is having a clearance sale with 20 to 50 percent off on furniture and accessories that have been discontinued from their collection. While you're checking out the sales, take a peek at their new 2015 collection full of designs for modern living.

Starting this week, Unison Home (1911 W. Division St.) is having their annual white sale, meaning tons of household linens are up to 20 percent off. Hurry in and pick up one of their linens with fun modern graphic designs by Cody Hudson in colors that are perfect for springtime.

From trendy mid-century to mod retro sofas, West Elm (1000 W. North Ave.) has it all, and it's all on sale. Get up to 20 percent off sofas, chairs, ottomans, and sectionals this week. If you've had your eye on the new Kate Spade Saturday collection, this is your chance. Shopping online? Use code: BRIGHTENUP for free shipping, today only (excludes furniture, rugs, and SMEG appliances).

Wood-Mode is opening their first ever lifestyle design center at Luxe Home in Chicago's Merchandise Mart. Wood-Mode is the nation's largest manufacturer of custom cabinetry for kitchens, baths, and other rooms throughout the home. If you've been looking into updating your kitchen, start here to get inspired for your next project.